

COOKIES POLICY

Introduction

We use “cookies” — small text files placed on your device — to make our website function properly, to improve your experience, and to help us understand how the site is used. By continuing to browse or using our website, you accept the use of the cookies described in this policy.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small data files stored on your device (computer, smartphone, tablet) when you visit a website. They help remember your preferences, track usage, and enable certain features of the site.

How we use cookies

On our website <https://www.the-luxuryreport.com>, we use cookies for the following purposes:

- Strictly necessary cookies: These are essential for enabling you to move around the website and use its features (e.g., accessing secure areas). Without these cookies, services you request (such as logging in) cannot be provided.
- Performance / analytics cookies: To recognise and count site visits, to see how visitors move around the site and use it. This helps us improve site structure, design and content.
- Functionality cookies: To remember choices you make (e.g., your region or preferred language) and to provide enhanced, personal features.
- Targeting or advertising cookies: These cookies record your visit to the site, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. We may use this information to make the content you see more relevant to your interests and to deliver targeted advertising.

Third-party cookies

We may also allow trusted third parties (such as analytics providers, advertising networks and social media platforms) to set cookies on your device. For example:

- Google Analytics (or alternative analytics service) to track and report site usage.
 - Advertising platforms, if we display ads or sponsored content, to deliver interest-based advertising.
- These third-party cookies are governed by the third party’s cookie policy — please check those policies for further details.

Your choices regarding cookies

You can manage your cookie preferences at any time:

- Most browsers allow you to refuse, delete or block cookies — check your browser settings (often under ‘Options’, ‘Preferences’, ‘Privacy’, or ‘Security’).
- You can use the cookie banner (if displayed) to accept or decline non-essential cookies.
- Please note: if you disable or delete cookies, some features of the site may not work as intended.
